

Transformative Events and Processes in New Mexico's Colonial History

Archaeology of the 1680 Pueblo Revolt

September 8

Recent archaeological research casts new light on the aftermath and changes wrought by this transformative event. Archaeologists Matthew Liebmann (Harvard University) and Michael Wilcox (Stanford University) discuss their insights.

Frontera! Revolt and Rebellion on the Rio Grande

September 22

Filmmaker Juan Jota Leaños (UC Santa Cruz), anthropologist Aimee Villarreal (Our Lady of the Lakes University), and Lee Moquino (Santa Clara Pueblo) will screen and discuss an animated film about the Pueblo Revolt.

Comanches and Genízaros in Taos

October 6

Archaeologist Lindsay Montgomery (U Arizona), folklorist Enrique Lamadrid (U New Mexico) on the historical and cultural impact of Comanches in Taos, and anthropologist Gregorio Gonzales (UT Austin) on Genízaro identity.

The Colonial Indo-Hispano Landscape

October 20

Archaeologist Jun Sunseri (UC Berkeley) and community collaborators Dr. Charlie Carrillo, Isabel Trujillo, and Virgil Trujillo discuss the colonial Indo-Hispano landscape of Abiquiu.

VENUE

Harwood Museum
238 Ledoux Street
Taos, NM 87571

TIME

6-8 PM

MORE INFO

575-737-3767
<http://taoslecture.com>